

Marques hit it out of the park, oh wait, wrong sport ... Our Teen Reach participants left enlightened and inspired. It is rare to find a speaker who connects with the entire audience; Marques Ogden did. Evaluations from the youth, counselors, staff and parents all had positive comments and reviews from his moving presentation.

Marques took the time to tailor his remarks to our audience regarding life stress, bullying, and self-harm. Though few could believe this six foot six former NFL lineman had once been bullied, it was easy to see why they now friend-request him! He struck a relevant chord with our youth. To top off his highly engaging thought-provoking talk, he stayed to be photographed with a long line of individuals and with each of our small groups.

Marques captured our audience's attention and left attendee's thinking in new ways. We couldn't be more pleased and look forward to having him return to our future events.

A support network of families, schools, community leaders, and our corporate partners will empower youth to make wise choices for their future health and well-being. Marques, thank you for being a vital part of their success!

Lisa R. Thornton, MS, MBA
Executive Director, Teen Reach – Charlotte

<http://TeenReach.US>

Facebook: Teen Reach – Charlotte

@TeenReach_CLT #TeenReachUS